

RECEIVED
CENTRAL FAX CENTER

NOV 06 2008

Abstract

An audio output control is provided with a microcomputer that judges a condition in which digital audio reproduction is not permitted and switches an audio output switching circuit to an analog audio reproduction signal side by means of a microcomputer's control signal, whereby an audio signal can be monitored in any reproduction condition.